Participants will need to have access to an electronic device (such as a laptop, tablet or smart phone) with internet access to successfully undertake this subject.

Pre-requisites:

There are no pre-requisites for this subject.

Subject requirements:

To successfully complete this subject a student must attempt all assessment tasks and achieve at least 50% of the total marks.

Subject Aim and Content:

This subject aims to explore the nature and practice of a wide range of scholarly activities and their contribution to extending the boundaries of knowledge and understanding for effectiveness in learning and teaching practice and the development of a culture of scholarship. Scholarly activity aims to inform good academic and professional practice and enhance the overall effectiveness of learning and teaching.

Students in this subject will critically review and evaluate the full range of contemporary adult education and training scholarly activity. They will also endeavour to identify the type of activity that best suits their own needs, interests and plans; those of their Institution or organisation; and those of other relevant internal and external stakeholders.

Students will explore the ethical and practical implications and challenges of conducting scholarly activity and acquire the necessary knowledge and skills about evidence-based scholarship to better inform their own discipline expertise and the effectiveness of their overall academic or professional practice.

Subject Learning Outcomes (SLO):

On successful completion of this subject students will be able to:
SLO1	Compare the contribution of different forms of scholarly activity to quality academic or professional practice.
SLO2	Evaluate the contribution of personal scholarly activity to a culture of scholarship.
SLO3	Explore a range of scholarly activities for systematically improving quality in learning and teaching.
SLO4	Summarise the benefits and ethical, operational and regulatory challenges of promoting a culture of scholarship.
SLO5	Formulate strategic options for scholarly activities that meet internal and external standards as well as stakeholder expectations.
